In Memoriam

The 1969 Notre Dame Football Guide could not possibly be published without pausing to note the memory of two Notre Dame men.

Herbert E. Jones

1902-1969

Herbert E. Jones enjoyed a 47-year association with the University and was the popular, elder statesman of the Athletic Department, serving as Business Manager since 1940 until his passing in March. He was, indeed, a friend, advisor and valued historian for Notre Dame sports publications.

Mark C. Brandt

1949-1969

Mark C. Brandt, too, was every bit a Notre Dame man even though he was a part of the University for too brief a time. He enrolled at Notre Dame in September, 1968, as a student-athlete and was the leading receiver and punter for the undefeated freshman football team last season. A victim of a drowning accident this past June, he was a bright prospect for the 1969 varsity.

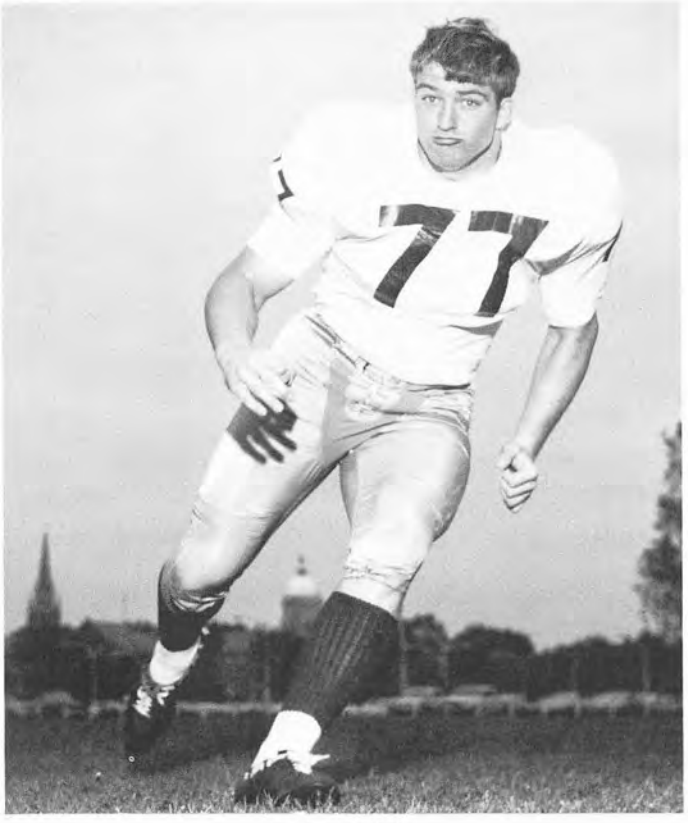
IF THE OFFENSE IS ONLY ADEQUATE,

JOE THEISMANN



MIKE McCOY

THEN THE DEFENSE WILL HAVE TO BE SUPERB

The last time Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian was faced with the task of rebuilding an offensive unit his efforts produced a National Championship team. That was back in 1966 when the Irish coach had lost seven regulars from the previous season. This year he must find nine new members for his scoring unit.

Although there is some similarity in the problems faced by Parseghian in 1966 and now in 1969, the prospects for identical results are rather slim. Even though graduation losses were heavy four years ago, Parseghian could at least count on the return of Nick Eddy and Larry Conjar, two great running backs. And he came up with a couple of spectacular sophomores in Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour, who, in three succeeding seasons, went on to rewrite a host of Irish passing and receiving records.

The 1968 Irish backfield has graduated and thus there is no one returning that resembles a Nick Eddy or a Larry Conjar. Or, alas, a Bob Gladieux. And there certainly is no pass-catch combination wandering around the Irish practice field waiting to burst upon the collegiate grid scene as Hanratty and Seymour did so dramatically three seasons ago. Furthermore, the big, mobile line which enabled the Irish to rank second in the nation in total offense last year has been stripped of five members. As a matter of fact junior guard Larry DiNardo and senior tackle Jim Reilly are the only two returning regulars from the entire offensive unit. And to make matters worse, of the sixteen other monogram winners returning only four are offensive linemen. "Without even a few experienced linemen to form a nucleus, our offensive unit will be somewhat of an enigma in the early part of the season," Parseghian reports. "The situation was just the reverse last year when we had to go into the season with a green defense and it took three or four games before we jelled into an effective unit."

In molding an offense, Parseghian will start by calling on junior quarterback Joe Theismann, who directed Notre Dame to two victories and a 21-21 tie against Southern Cal in the last three games in 1968 when Hanratty suffered a knee injury. During spring drills Theismann showed no willingness to give up the No. 1 role. The way the sharp and speedy quarterback gambles, scrambles, and scampers around in the backfield makes him live up to the "South River (N.J.) Road Runner" nickname that was pinned on him last fall. "His darting quickness is a real asset to us," says Parseghian, "and I feel he will develop his full potential as a passer. In any event, he's the type of quarterback I hate to play against."

Gores, Tom		Sr.	6-1	182
Peiffer, Mike		So.	6-1	190
*Theismann, Joe	†115:00	Jr.	6-0	170

Since there were no real challengers threatening Theismann in the spring the pertinent question was who would be the backup signal callers. The problem caused some uneasy moments for the coaching staff since it realizes all too well that adequate depth in this key position is an absolute necessity. "We're hoping that someone will take hold of the opportunity and emerge as a take-charge guy for the second unit," the Irish mentor stated. Thus the wide open spot is available to senior Tom Gores, who has not seen any previous action because of injuries, junior John Gardner and sophomores Bill Etter and Mike Peiffer. Etter and Gores were neck and neck at times in the spring and probably will continue the battle in pre-season drills. Etter perhaps has the edge in quickness and speed while Gores' practice field experience could play an important part in helping him win the No. 2 spot.

The loss of an entire backfield in one year can be a traumatic and costly experience, especially when the missing quartet included a performer of the caliber of Gladieux. The loss of the Louisville, Ohio, back takes on added significance when one considers that he: (1) gained more yardage last year than any other back in the last fourteen seasons; (2) scored more touchdowns [14] than any other Irish player in one season since Red Salmon tallied 15 in 1903; (3) totaled 84 points, a season figure matched by only one player [Bob Kelly, 1944] in the last 50 years, and, (4) nabbed 72 career receptions to rank him behind Jim Seymour in that category. In the post-season North-South game he was selected the North's Most Valuable Player. Indeed, Gladieux alone is a big chunk of offense the Irish must replace.

The two leading halfback candidates during the spring were senior Ed Ziegler and sophomore-to-be Andy Huff. Ziegler has a little previous experience to offer as he toted the ball 30 times for 163 yards last season. His other credentials are size and reasonable receiving ability. Behind Ziegler is Dick Zielony, a hard-hitting sophomore whose performance in the annual Blue-Gold game indicated that he is a bona fide threat to take over a top running role, and sophomore Jim Yoder, converted from quarterback to better utilize his speed. He responded by reeling off the two longest runs during the entire spring session when he ran for plus 70-yard touchdowns. Another top contender is Bob Minnix whose only shortcoming is the lack of experience.

The most pleasant surprise, however, was newcomer Huff, a strong-legged, semi-speedster, who combines the power of a fullback and the niftiness of a halfback. The Toledo, O., youngster didn't get his chance until incumbent Denny Allan was forced to the sideline with a pulled hamstring. And once he stationed himself in the backfield he never relinquished the role. "Andy was the most consistent back all spring and if he can maintain the same performance level this fall he could make a sizeable contribution to our running game," Parseghian said. But those who know Allan are not willing to count him out of the big backfield picture altogether and he is conceded a better than even chance of winning out in the fall or even moving over to successfully challenge Ziegler and Zielony. But whether it's Ziegler, Zielony, Huff or Allan, the Irish still will lack a speedy, break-away threat.

The fullback spot could be in good hands if senior Jeff Zimmerman can overcome an injury-plagued junior year and duplicate a productive sophomore season when he was the team's leading ground gainer. Not only did he rack up 591 yards but in the process he broke the Notre Dame record for the number of touchdowns scored by a sophomore. His nine TDs bested the old mark of Neil Worden who crossed the goal line eight times in 1951.

JEFF ZIMMERMAN

ED ZIEGLER

Last year the burly fullback was hampered by a leg injury and was used sparingly after mid-season. He carried the ball only seven times after the fourth game of the season and he missed the final three games entirely. "A healthy Zimmerman could be the key and spark we need to develop a balanced running game," Parseghian reports. But should the Pennsylvania senior falter to any degree, however, then the coaching staff would have to concentrate its efforts on a promising youngster by the name of John "Cisco" Cieszkowski, whose explosive jaunts through the line might be just what Parseghian is looking for. But the Detroit newcomer is far from a polished performer and will have to sharpen and refine his blocking and running skills this fall. Adding depth to the position will be junior Bill Barz and soph Tom Merritt.

"... all of the skilled people from last year's offense are gone and we'll have to start from scratch."

After losing his complete passing attack of Hanratty-to-Seymour, Winegardner, Gladieux and O'Brien, Ara pronounced this phase of offense his most pressing problem this past spring. Bereft of wide receivers Parseghian had to experiment, switch and develop some pass catching personnel. His switching produced at least one solid candidate when last year's punter, Jim deArrieta, wound up as the leading split end candidate. Junior Tom Eaton, who spelled Seymour on occasion last season, seemed to experience some difficulty in holding on to the ball. But at 6-3 and with good speed, there's no reason why he can't shrug off a mediocre spring and emerge as a regular in the fall. Another senior, Nick Furlong, passed up spring drills to labor on the mound for the Irish baseball team. He, too, could figure in strongly, either as a regular or as a valuable back-up man.

Trapp both got chances to display their catching talents and undoubtedly will add some much needed depth. Gatewood was also used as a halfback and flanker and pre-season drills will determine where his talents are needed most. His excellent speed and good size enhance his opportunity to make a contribution to the 1969 squad. Other receiver prospects include junior Craig Stark and Paul Snow, who was granted another year of eligibility after having been forced to drop out of school because of illness.

At tight end senior Dewey Poskon, injured all of last season, should be able to step into a starting role. There is little question as to his receiving ability and if he is able to add a little heft to enhance his blocking duties he may prove difficult to dislodge. Those who will try will be sophomore Scott Williams, junior Nick Hartzel and senior Tom Lawson. Williams perhaps has the best chance to work his way up to the varsity because of speed and strength.

The interior line, where the Irish have been consistently strong will be awfully green. Even so there are some bright spots that keep the situation from becoming stark. "Jim Reilly, at this same point in his career, has to rank as good a tackle as George Kunz," observes Parseghian. As good as George Kunz? To be sure. As a matter of fact, Reilly is even rated superior in certain phases of line play and his performances this spring captured the eyes of the pro scouts who gave the Yonkers, N.Y., senior top ratings. The practice field visitors were kept glued to the left side of the line as they saw an awesome display of blocking talent from both Reilly and junior guard Larry DiNardo. Three years ago a gangly, seemingly uncoordinated sophomore-to-be walked onto the spring practice field, uninvited, unheralded and unknown by coaches and players alike. The lanky youth merely wanted an opportunity to "try-out" for the Irish football team. He was given the chance and, not illogically, he spent the next three springs and fall practice sessions on the preparation teams. Suddenly last September, however, he began to catch the eye of coach Wampfler who noted some happy changes in the young man, both physically and artistically. And before the 1968 season was over, Mike Oriard not only was a member of the varsity, he was the team's starting center mid-way through the campaign when Tim Monty was injured. Now a returning monogram winner and now no longer gangly, lanky or unknown, Oriard received nothing but high praise for his outstanding play last fall and again this past spring.

It's not very difficult to become a member of the Mike Oriard Fan Club because the youngster not only made the impossible dream come true on the football field, but he commands a great deal of respect in the classroom as well where he has maintained an almost perfect 4.0 academic average. "Make no mistake about it," states Parseghian, "Mike Oriard is not just an ordinary football player.

If any one word describes Notre Dame's potential offensive unit it would be inexperienced. There is an utter lack of experience in almost every position and especially in the skilled areas—running, passing, receiving. It will be a green unit, indeed, and it will require a little time for it to mature and jell. And based on the personnel available it may never be an explosive unit, able to score from almost any point on the field such as the 1966 and 1968 squads were able to do. "You can't overlook the fact that all of the skilled people from last year's offense are gone and we'll have to start from scratch," Parseghian observes. "We may have to employ a consuming ground game, a 'grind-it-out' offense that isn't blessed with great backfield speed, deep receiving threat, or long-bomb passing."

If the offense is only adequate then the defense will have to be superb if the Irish are to turn in their sixth straight winning season under Parseghian. And it will be a veteran defense that could provide the impetus for such a year.

Eight of eleven starters return this season from a defensive unit that was rebuilt a year ago and had its problems in the early weeks of the season as it fought inexperience and injuries. In the first three games alone opponents were able to score 86 points before the jelling process set in. Then the Notre Dame defenders permitted only 84 points in the final seven games and the first unit allowed only seven enemy touchdowns to be scored against it.

When Parseghian set forth his plans for spring practice he knew he would have to come up with replacements for two defensive ends, Bob Kuechenberg and Chick Lauck, and one tackle, Eric Norri. The logical replacements were Tom Nash and Steve Lambert and Bob Jockisch respectively, all of whom could move up from last year's second unit.

TIM KELLY

LARRY SCHUMACHER

The linebacking corps had more experienced players returning than any other position, due mostly to the fact that numerous injuries last year permitted a more than usual number of players to see action. The same held true for the secondary where injuries kept different personnel shifting in and out of the lineup during the ten-game schedule.

Nash and Lambert did take over the end spots and Pat Mudron filled in at tackle for the injured Jockisch along side of Mike McCoy at the start of spring. And for all intents and purposes this quartet seemed destined to represent Coach Joe Yonto's "Front Four." But after two weeks a beefy freshman trio began to command the attention of the coaching staff. And before you could say Walt Patulski, Fred Swendsen and Greg Marx, this threesome had moved into the first string lineup. "These three youngsters really came on with a rush," says Parseghian. "And the unusual thing about it is that they did it simultaneously. We'll have to see if they can battle off the veterans for these positions in preseason practice."

Mudron, Pat	48:25	Jr.	6-0	240

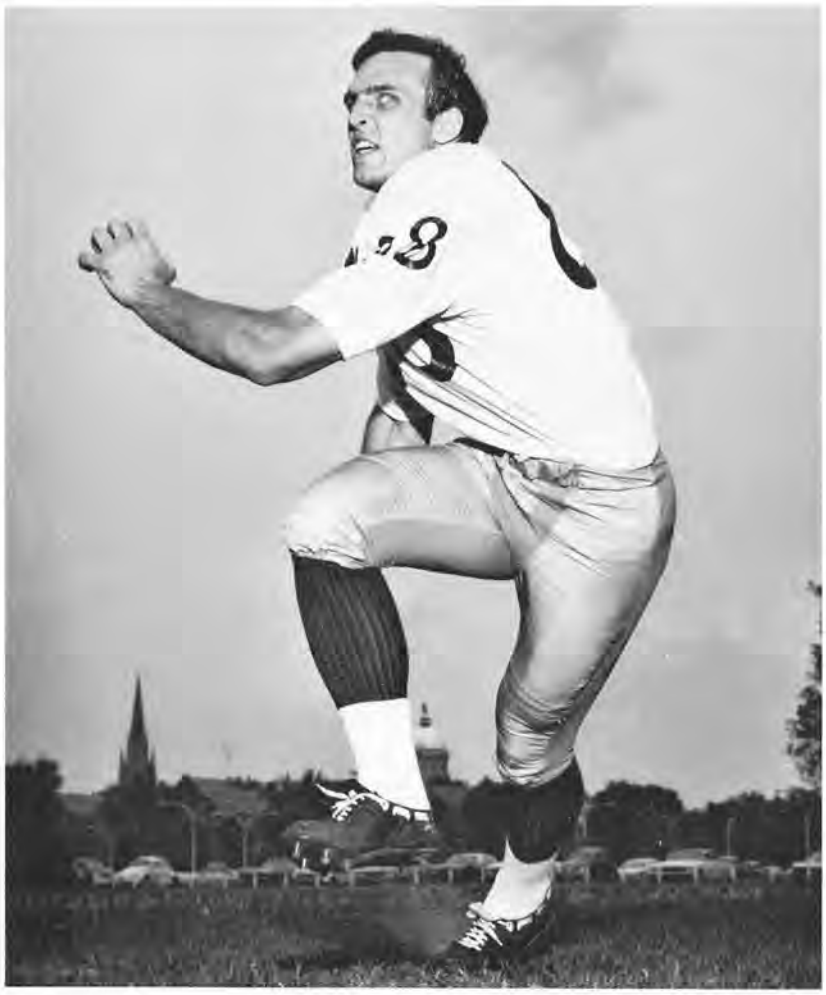
All three newcomers are big, strong and determined to retain their front line positions. "These are three of the hardest working young players I have seen in six years here at Notre Dame," said defensive coach Joe Yonto, who has developed more than a few sophomore linemen for starting roles since 1964.

Patulski, at 6-5, 235, has the physical edge over both Nash and Ed Grenda, and his quickness is a big asset in containing the opponent's wide attack. Swendsen, too, possesses ideal size at 6-4, 230, to give the Irish an impressive looking set of ends. He'll receive a challenge from Lambert and sophomores Jim Massey, Jim Donahue and Herman Hooten.

Marx, a strong and muscular competitor, could team up with All-America candidate, Mike McCoy, to form a sizeable tackle tandem. Jockisch, Mudron and sophomore Al Pope will battle for the two spots behind Marx.



BOB NEIDERT

McCoy, who has been a regular since he was a sophomore, enjoyed a banner year last season and perhaps turned in his greatest single-game performance against Southern Cal and O. J. Simpson.

Bob Olson, whose thunderous tackles have been his trademark since his sophomore year, heads the linebackers.

McCoy's ubiquity duly impressed Simpson and the corps of Los Angeles sportswriters who voted him the game's "most valuable lineman" and tagged him a "sure bet All-America for 1969". Simpson, after being tackled on one particular play in the fourth quarter, looked up into the face of McCoy, while both were still on the ground, and exclaimed, "Oh, no, not you again!" It was to say the least, a fine compliment from the great Trojan back who was held to 55 yards in 22 carries, the lowest total in his outstanding collegiate career. Mike Zikas, another promising sophomore, and Pat Yahle, will add depth behind McCoy.

The linebacking quartet is experienced, talented, and rugged and should be able to act as a safety valve in the event the three sophomore linemen win out in their bids for starting roles. "We are going to have to depend on our linebackers to cover up for any inexperience we may have in the line," Parseghian notes.

Led by the hard-hitting Irish co-captain (the offensive co-captain will be elected prior to the season), Bob Olson, whose thunderous tackles have been his trademark since his sophomore year, the linebacker corps possesses speed, agility and depth. The left outside post will be handled by junior Tim Kelly, who, as a sophomore, logged more playing time than any other linebacker on the team. Backing him up will be sophomores Rick Thomann and John Cloherty. On Kelly's inside is another premier performer, senior Larry Schumacher, who came off the bench early last season and remained in the starting lineup for the rest of the campaign. His ability to "read" opponent's offenses and his spirited leadership will be a valuable contribution to the overall defensive stature in 1969. His replacements are sophomore Eric Patton, and juniors Ron Johnson and John McHale.

Behind Olson at the right inside spot will be challengers Tim Zuber, a sophomore and Jim Wright, a regular last year until sidelined by an early season injury. He, too, passed up spring drills to serve as a catcher on the Notre Dame baseball team. But he'll be back in the fall and could very conceivably upset the starting lineup that prevailed in the spring. The right outside linebacker will be junior Bob Neidert, another regular last season until injured in the third game of the season against Iowa. Behind him will be senior Jim Merlitti and "walk-on" Jim Witchger.

The defensive secondary, which as a green unit last year proved vulnerable to enemy touchdown passes in the first three games, returns some experienced performers in Chuck Zloch, John Gasser, Jim Sheahan, Don Reid, Ernie Jackson and Jay Standring. But experience is certainly no passport or guarantee to first team status, as was proved by the upstart freshmen linemen in the spring. So, too, did the veteran anti-pass unit get a severe challenge and jolt from several newcomers who may have won starting roles.

Zloch, whose five interceptions led the squad last year, is the only returnee who apparently was successful in retaining his job in the spring. But close behind is sophomore Ralph Stepaniak followed by another first year man, Tom Menie. On the left side, monogram winner John Gasser had a difficult time warding off Ed Gulyas, another surprising "walk-on" who gained some experience on last year's frosh squad. The San Carlos, Calif., sophomore was also used as a punter and on punt returns. His versatility and spring performances may have won him a starting berth. Behind Gulyas and Gasser is another "walk-on," Brian Lewallen, who saw some game action last season. Both Jay Standring and Ernie Jackson missed a good part of spring drills due to injuries. Both should return to make healthy bids in the fall although Jackson has been hampered by a surgical knee since last season.

At safety, a speedy little sophomore-to-be, Clarence Ellis nudged veteran Don Reid out of a starting role. His excellent speed will also be used in a kick-off return role. Reid will have another crack at the position in the fall as will Jim Sheahan, an injury victim last year after having started several games, and Tim Sigrist, a junior. The battle for starting roles in the defensive backfield should be one of the interesting sidelights of the pre-season drills.

REVEREND EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Most people recognize Rev. Edmund P. Joyce as the distinguished executive vice president and treasurer of the University of Notre Dame. But there was a time when Notre Dame's administrator par excellence excelled on the playing fields.

Although he tells the story with tongue in cheek, Fr. Joyce played basketball for Oxford University when that hallowed English seat of learning won the European Championship.

For the past 17 years in his current position, Fr. Joyce has helped project a future for Notre Dame as bright as its past. The latest step toward that goal was occupancy of the new Athletic and Convocation Center.

While devoting a vast amount of time to the advanced planning of the University, Fr. Joyce coordinates the efforts of the six University vice presidents in addition to serving as Chairman of the Faculty Board in Control of Athletics and the University Building Committee.

In both of the latter capacities, he coordinated the planning and construction of the Athletic and Convocation Center.

A South Carolinian by birth, Fr. Joyce was graduated from Notre Dame with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1937. He became a certified public accountant in 1939. Six years later, he enrolled in the Holy Cross College Seminary — the theological house of studies of the Congregation of the Holy Cross in Washington, D.C.

He was ordained a priest in the Sacred Heart Church at Notre Dame in 1949. Following his ordination, Fr. Joyce was named assistant vice president for business affairs at Notre Dame and then became acting vice president in the spring of 1950.

Two years later, he was appointed executive vice president and second in the University's chain of command.

Fr. Joyce pursued graduate study at Oxford and holds an honorary doctorate from the College of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minn.

EDWARD W. KRAUSE

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Notre Dame's ambassador on the move, Edward W. "Moose" Krause, has finally made his longest awaited trip. Although he didn't travel a mile taking it, Moose led his athletic department into its new offices in the Athletic and Convocation Center last summer.

Though Krause annually makes speaking stops in almost every state in the Union and is in constant motion, he always takes time to view his Fighting Irish varsity teams in action when schedules permit.

His popularity and rapport with real and subway alumni are carry overs from his coaching and playing days.

One finds the name of 6-3, 200-pound student-athlete Krause on the lists of all-time Notre Dame greats in football, basketball and track and field.

Moose came to Notre Dame as a gangling all sports star from DeLaSalle High School on Chicago's south side.

Although he earned three football monograms as a regular tackle in 1931-32-33, his biggest college athletic heroics were accomplished on the basketball floor as a center.

In a day when a double figure scoring effort was rare, Krause was the clutch-play artist for coach George Keogan. Moose finished his senior year with a basketball career scoring record of 547 points.

Krause dominated basketball games as the Fighting Irish won 54 and lost 12 in his three years.

Once, against Butler, Moose scored an impossible last second field goal while lying sprawled on the floor after a collision with another player. Basketball was then a contact sport.

He scored 140 points as a sophomore, 213 (then a record) as a junior, and added 194 in his senior year.

After graduation he coached basketball and football at St. Mary's (Minn.) College, then at Holy Cross and finally six seasons as head basketball coach at his alma mater. His record for the Irish was 98-48.

As a football player, Krause's reputation for leadership and ability earned him the captaincy of the first College All-Star game in Soldier Field, Chicago.

An invitation by the U. S. Army took Krause to European military installations last spring where he took part in a series of special programs for service personnel.

Last March he celebrated his 20th year as Notre Dame's athletic director.

As a citizen, Krause's accomplishments are many. He has been a director or chairman of almost every civic group you can name including the Chamber of Commerce, the United Fund and the National Conference of Christians and Jews. He also served as vice president of the Pan-American Games Committee in 1959.

ARA PARSEGHIAN

Head Football Coach

Before the 1969 season is history, Ara Parseghian could rank as the third most successful coach in the annals of Notre Dame football. His record of 40 wins, 7 losses and 3 ties in five years as head mentor of the Irish is exceeded only by three other Notre Dame coaches—Knute Rockne, Frank Leahy and Elmer Layden. Rockne's 105 victories and Leahy's 87 wins are out of reach but Parseghian is within striking distance of Layden's 47 triumphs.

Parseghian, however, has meant more to the University than just a successful football coach who cares only about a group of students participating in the intercollegiate grid program. Indeed, he has shown an intense interest and concern with and an active participation in a great many other facets of University life, especially those that contribute to the "spirit" and deep traditions of Notre Dame.

Born in Akron, Ohio, May 21, 1923, Parseghian enlisted in the Navy after graduating from South High School. While in the service he played football under Paul Brown at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center. Upon being discharged, he entered Miami of Ohio University where he competed in football, baseball, and basketball. He won all-Ohio honors as a halfback and received All-America team mention after the 1947 season when the Miami team played in the Sun Bowl.

When an injury brought a quick end to his professional playing career with the Cleveland Browns, he launched his coaching career at Miami as an assistant on the staff of Woody Hayes. He took over the head job when Hayes moved to Ohio State a year later.

*Winning percentages are exclusive of ties.

He stopped off at Northwestern from 1956 to 1963 where his Wildcats won 36, lost 35 and played one tie game. In 1962 Ara led Northwestern to a 7-2 record, the "Cats" best campaign since they went to the Rose Bowl in 1948 with an 8-2 mark.

He arrived on the Notre Dame scene in 1964 and put the Irish in the college football limelight by leading them to a 9-1 record and within a few minutes of a National Championship. Two years later, his Fighting Irish won the title, the first for Notre Dame since 1949. Fifteen players on that squad received mention on at least one All-America team; six were consensus selections.

For his coaching and leadership abilities, Parseghian has received acclaim outside the boundaries of the Notre Dame campus. In 1964 he and Frank Broyles of Arkansas were named "Co-Coaches of the Year" by the American Football Coaches Association. He received the "Coach of the Year" award from the Football Writers of America, Washington Touchdown Club, the Football News, the Sporting News and the New York Daily News.

Ara Parseghian shares his triumphs and his setbacks with wife Kathleen, his two daughters, Karen 19, Kristan 17, and his son Michael 14.

GEORGE KELLY — Linebacker Coach

Taking over the chore of coaching the linebacker corps this season is George Kelly, a 1953 graduate of Notre Dame, who was an assistant coach at Nebraska the last eight seasons.

The 41-year-old Kelly, who played football only briefly for the Fighting Irish, replaces John Ray who left Notre Dame last December to become head coach at Kentucky.

Kelly is a native of Rockford, Illinois, and came to Notre Dame in 1949. After a year as a freshman player, he suffered an injury and had to give up the sport in 1950.

Following his graduation in 1953, Kelly was hired as a teacher and baseball coach at South Bend St. Joseph's High in 1953 and the following year was named head football coach.

At St. Joseph's, Kelly's teams earned a won-lost-tie record of 13-11-2 in three seasons before he resigned to accept a job at St. Thomas Aquinas in Rockford. But before he took over at St. Thomas, Kelly received an offer to be an assistant coach at Marquette University, where he remained for four years.

In 1961, Kelly moved to Nebraska. With the Cornhuskers, Kelly worked with the defensive line and linebackers. While he was there, Nebraska led the nation in total defense in 1963 and again in 1967 and dominated the Big Eight conference in total defense every year since 1962 with the exception of 1968.

Kelly is married to the former Gloria Haddad. They have four children: Barbara, 16; Patti, 14; Lori, 10; and Kevin, 7.

PAUL SHOULTS — Defensive Secondary

The start of Paul Shoults' 18th season under Ara Parseghian will be much brighter than it was last year. In 1969, Shoults will welcome back three monogram-winning defensive backs, as compared to only one in 1968.

Since taking over the Irish deep backs in 1964, Shoults has put together two of the best anti-pass combinations in Notre Dame history: Longo, Carey and Rassas, and then Smithberger, O'Leary and Schoen.

Shoults begins his sixth year at Notre Dame backed up by a 17-year history of solid collegiate coaching. A member of Parseghian's coaching staff since 1952 when he was Ara's freshman coach at Miami of Ohio, he has made two switches with the Irish head man — to Northwestern in 1956 and to Notre Dame in 1964.

Shoults earned four letters at Miami — 1945, '46, '47, and '48 — being captain and most valuable player in his senior year. During his four years, Miami won 30, lost 6, and tied 3. He teamed with Parseghian in the backfield on the 1946 and 1947 squads. In addition to the four letters he earned as a football halfback, he won three as a baseball outfielder.

A native of Washington Court House, Ohio (born October 9, 1925), Shoults has a master's degree in education. He is married to the former Martha Huff, also of Washington Court House, and they have two daughters — Anne, 13, and Kay, 9.

JOE YONTO — Defensive Line

"Desire and discipline" will be the three-word answer you get from Joe Yonto when you ask him for the key to athletic success.

Handling Notre Dame's first line of defense, Yonto has instilled these attributes in the likes of Kevin Hardy, Alan Page, Dick Arrington, Tom Regner, Pete Duranko, Paul Costa and Bob Kuechenberg.

Quick with a smile, Yonto has gained the respect of his players by showing them what the desire-discipline formula can produce.

That Yonto has a special way — not just with associates and friends, but with the Irish gridders — perhaps relates to his 16 years of high school coaching and contact with young men.

Prior to joining Ara Parseghian's staff, he served seven years as coach of Notre Dame High School in Niles, Illinois. During his tenure there, his teams compiled a 42-18-5 record including three consecutive Chicago Suburban Catholic League titles from 1960 through 1962, and a perfect 10-0 mark in 1961.

His high school coaching also took him to St. Mary's (Michigan City, Indiana), St. Stephen's (Port Huron, Michigan), and Mount Carmel and St. Rita's in Chicago.

The Orrville, Ohio native is not entirely new to Irish football as he played fullback for Notre Dame in 1945 and guard in 1946. As a senior, he served as assistant freshman coach when forced out of action with a leg injury.

Yonto is married to the former Betty Rose, of Michigan City, Indiana, and they have six children — Mary Jo, 19; Carol, 18; Tony, 16; Robert, 15; Theresa, 12; and Joey, 9.

WALLY MOORE — Assistant Offensive Line

Undefeated in three years of coaching the Notre Dame freshman teams, Wally Moore has been moved this season to the varsity staff as assistant offensive line coach.

Posting a 5-0-1 won-lost-tie record in his stint as head frosh mentor, Moore will now work with Jerry Wampfler to prepare the Irish front-line blockers and pass receivers.

Moore joined the Notre Dame coaching staff in 1966 after 14 years of high school coaching success. After graduating from St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Indiana, he began his coaching career at Marion High School in Maria Stein, Ohio, in 1952.

In 1959, he was named head football coach at St. Joseph's High School in South Bend, where he compiled a record of 48-15-4. His 1964 team was acclaimed "Mythical State Champions" and earned for Moore the honor of Indiana "Coach of the Year." At St. Joseph's, his teams from 1961 through 1964 were all ranked in the top ten of the final Indiana high school ratings.

Moore holds a master's degree in American history from Indiana University.

A native of LaPorte, Indiana, he is married to the former Margaret Clements. They have five children: Monica, 17; Ramona, 16; Robin, 14; Terry, 12; and Tony, 6.

TOM PAGNA — Offensive Backfield

Humor, writing, and football are subjects which deeply interest backfield coach Tom Pagna. His humor has gained him a growing reputation as a master dialectician. His pen has produced several unpublished volumes of both football and fictional topics. His coaching has polished All-Americas John Huarte, Nick Eddy, Bill Wolski, Larry Conjar and Terry Hanratty.

A spectacular collegiate halfback under Ara Parseghian at Miami of Ohio, Pagna twice won little All-America and All-Ohio honors, and earned All-Conference recognition three times.

He was the first player in the school's history to gain over 1,000 yards rushing in a single season. While setting ground gaining and season scoring marks, he was also chosen the team's most valuable player and most outstanding senior.

Upon graduation he played professional ball with the Green Bay Packers and Cleveland Browns of the National Football League. His pro career was cut short, however, by a series of injuries.

Before being added to Parseghian's staff as a freshman coach at Northwestern in 1959, Pagna was the head coach at Akron (Ohio) North High School for two years. In 1962, he assumed the duties of backfield coach for the Wildcats. He holds a master's degree in education.

Pagna was born in Cleveland (January 28, 1932) and grew up in Akron. He married the former Shirley Leib, also of Akron, and they have two daughters: Sandy Lynn, 14, and Susan Lee, 10.

JERRY WAMPFLER — Offensive Line

During the last three years, offensive line coach Jerry Wampfler has molded lines that have given excellent protection for passing and have opened holes enabling the Irish to rank 13th, 16th and 4th in national rushing offense. His college lines, both here and at Miami of Ohio, have been known for their ability to pick opponent's blitzing tactics.

Wampfler was an outstanding tackle at Miami (1951-53) under Ara Parseghian and played with Tom Pagna, offensive backfield coach for the Irish. He returned to Miami's coaching staff four years ago after extensive high school and coaching experience, serving as the offensive coordinator on the staff of G. E. (Bo) Schembechler, another former Parseghian aide at Miami and now head coach at the University of Michigan.

Wampfler is a native of New Philadelphia, Ohio. Following his graduation from Miami he served as an assistant coach at New Philadelphia High School and later as an assistant at Presbyterian College and Lancaster (Ohio) High School. In 1957 he was named head football coach at Perry High in Massillon, Ohio, where he won a league championship in 1961. He returned to Lancaster in 1962 as head coach posting an 8-1-1 record and winning Central Ohio League "Coach of the Year" honors.

Wampfler is married to the former Carol Lewis. The couple has three children: Nan, 12; Jody, 10; and Tad, 8.

JOHN MURPHY — Scouting and Defense

John Murphy has been on the past two Notre Dame coaching staffs in the last 11 years. A part-time assistant, his responsibilities are critically important. In addition to his scouting duties, he has the task of teaching the preparation teams the formations and defensive tactics of the varsity's upcoming opponent.

John divides his time between Notre Dame football and John Adams High School where he has taught and coached since 1951. His coaching mark at Adams was 46 wins, 25 losses, and three ties. Included in his impressive record were a pair of Eastern Division titles and one Northern Indiana Conference Championship. He gained Indiana High School "Coach of the Year" honors in 1956.

A native of South Bend, John prepped at Central High before enrolling at Notre Dame. After graduation, he began his coaching career at Union Endicott High in New York. After eight years there, he coached three seasons at Chicago's Holy Trinity High and then moved to Auburn University as an assistant for three years.

He and his wife Odessa have one son, Denny, and two daughters, Sheila and Margaret.

MIKE STOCK — Freshman

Notre Dame's new freshman football coach, Mike Stock, finds himself in a not-so-new position — working with Ara Parseghian.

Coming from the Naval Academy where he handled the offensive backs, flankers and split ends as an assistant coach, Stock rejoins Parseghian, with whom he started his collegiate football playing and coaching careers.

Stock, winner of three football letters at Northwestern from 1958 through 1960 under Parseghian, was the co-captain of the Wildcats his last two seasons, winning All-Big Ten honors as a fullback both years. Elected MVP and Athlete of the Year in 1960, Stock received the Western Conference (Big Ten) Medal for athletic and scholastic achievement in 1961.

Following his graduation in 1961, Stock spent one year at Northwestern coaching and scouting. He was in the Army from 1962-65, making the All-Europe and All-Army football teams. He and his wife Peggy have a son, Michael William, age 2.

DENNY MURPHY — Assistant Freshman

After serving as a graduate assistant coach last year, Denny Murphy has been elevated this season to assistant freshman football coach.

After completing work on his master's degree in education this summer, Murphy joins Mike Stock to give the Irish a new freshman coaching staff.

Murphy was a three-time monogram winner as an end at Notre Dame from 1960-63. After a tryout with the Los Angeles Rams in 1964, he joined the Navy.

Serving four and a half years as a pilot in the Navy, Murphy was assigned to the carriers Enterprise and Hornet. He earned five air medals for his 100-plus combat support missions in Vietnam.

A former All-Indiana performer at John Adams High School in South Bend, Denny is the son of John Murphy, also a Notre Dame assistant grid coach.

Denny and his wife, the former Cindy MacKenzie, were married in December of 1967.

GENE PASZKIET — Head Trainer

Head trainer for 17 years, Gene Paszkiet began easing the pains of Notre Dame athletes during Frank Leahy's last two seasons.

Responsible for the health and healing of the football athletes, Paszkiet's careful treatment of the injured and constant watch over the healthy is an essential part of Irish football and other Irish athletic successes.

A native of South Bend, he attended Washington High where he gained football honors at end in 1940 and 1941. He enrolled at Purdue in 1942, but was called to military service before completing a semester. After serving with the Coast Guard, he entered Notre Dame in the fall of 1946 and became a member of the freshman football squad.

He dropped football in favor of joining Trainer Hugh Burns' staff as a student assistant, a position he held until his graduation in January, 1950.

Paszkiet then joined the staff of Hugh Devore at New York University returning to Notre Dame on July 16, 1952.

at NOTRE DAME • SEPTEMBER 20 — 1:30 EDT

OUTLOOK

Twenty-three lettermen and the "graduates" from the most successful Northwestern freshman team in recent years will carry the hopes of the 1969 Wildcat team.

The Wildcats of Coach Alex Agase face the task of rebuilding their ground game. Providing the nucleus will be three lettermen, each of whom started on occasion last year — seniors Ken Luxton and Craig Smeeton and junior Mike Adamle.

The passing attack returns almost intact, with starting quarterback Dave Shelbourne, a junior, and his four top receivers of last season all back. Shelbourne completed 105 of 251 passes for 1,358 yards and seven touchdowns. The two top receivers were last year's starting ends, Bruce Hubbard (33 for 551) and Pat Harrington (17 for 163 yards), both seniors this year.

The team's greatest strength appears to be at linebackers, where all four starters are back. They are seniors Don Ross, Mike Hudson and Ray Forsthoffer and junior Joe Hall. Also back to bolster the defense are starting tackles Bill Galler, a senior, and John Rodman, a junior.

OUTLOOK

Coach Jack Mollenkopf of the Purdue Boilermakers is expected to field a team in 1969 with a strong defense but a questionable offense.

Eight starters return to bolster the Boilermakers on defense, which sports a top pass secondary, headed by Tim Foley and Don Webster.

On the offense, quarterback Mike Phipps will again direct Purdue's running and passing games. Phipps, who was injured midway through 1968, has completed 206 of 412 passes for 2,896 yards the past two falls. As a sophomore, he was third nationally in total offense with 2,020 yards.

Besides Phipps, however, the remainder of the Boilermaker backfield is short on experience. Only three running backs (who contributed seven of the 41 touchdowns scored in 1968) are back in the fold.

Mollenkopf lost 25 lettermen via graduation, while 31 return for play this season.

MICHIGAN STATE

at NOTRE DAME • OCTOBER 4 — 1:30 EDT

OUTLOOK

"We definitely should be an improved team next fall," says Michigan State coach Duffy Daugherty. "Our sophomore group was an eager, enthusiastic bunch which should improve with experience. Our junior group, headed by co-captains Frank Foreman and Rich Saul, should provide fine leadership. And our 1968 freshman team, while small in number, contained some high quality players who should play and help us quite a bit."

Daugherty cites as major problems the rebuilding of an almost completely wiped out defensive backfield and the replacement of a group of stellar players. The Spartans have 33 returning lettermen, while 12 have been graduated from the 1968 squad.

Being heavily counted on by Daugherty are Foreman and Rich Saul. Others expected to perform ably are offensive linemen Craig Wycinsky and Ron Saul, identical twin brother of Rich; linebacker Don Law; defensive linemen Ron Curl and Bill Dawson; running back Tommy Love; Gary Parmentier, a roverback last season who may be switched to fullback; and quarterback Bill Triplett.

OUTLOOK

A loss of 17 monogram winners cut heavily into the Army team of Coach Tom Cahill with the critical areas of 1969 coming at quarterback and the defensive unit.

While there are six starters back on offense, there are only three on defense. The list of lettermen numbers 16, with nine on offense, six on defense and one kicking specialist.

Quarterback Roger LeDoux, a starter in the first two games of 1967 but not a letterwinner in 1968, is the lone experienced quarterback available. Captain Lynn Moore, who could be moved from halfback to fullback, and halfback Hank Andrzejczak are back.

Along the offensive line, Cahill has tight end Joe Albano, tackle Don DeCort, guards Bill Jackson and Paul Watkins, and center Ted Shadid.

Starters on defense returning are middle guard Joe Neuman, end Bill Price and back John Brenner. Also available will be middle guard Ken Wyrick, linebacker Paul McDowell and back Tom Haller.

SOUTHERN CAL

OUTLOOK

Hampered by the graduation losses of O. J. Simpson and Steve Sogge, the 1969 Southern California Trojans of Coach John McKay are expected to display a strong defense and an able offense.

Nine members of the starting defense from last season return to bolster the Trojans. "Defensively, we should be stronger," says McKay, "but the loss of Simpson and Sogge has to be our major area of concern. Really, we lost our entire backfield (also fullback Dan Scott and flanker Jim Lawrence) along with two fine tight ends, Bob Klein and Bob Miller."

The defensive stalwarts for the 1969 Trojans are expected to be end Jimmy Gunn, tackles Tony Terry and Al Cowlings, and defensive back Sandy Durko.

The five offensive starters returning are guards Fred Khasigian and Steve Lehmer, split end Sam Dickerson, tackle Sid Smith, and Bob Chandler, who started at flankerback after Lawrence was injured.

OUTLOOK

The Green Wave of Tulane is expected to send a "green" but aggressive team into its 1969 schedule.

With 29 lettermen returning, Coach Jim Pittman will enjoy more depth than he has had in his previous three seasons at the Tulane helm. But the team will be young with sophomores making up better than half the squad.

New faces — belonging to the sophomores and a trio of promising junior college transfers — will dot the starting lineup, according to Pittman.

Tulane has added size up front on both offense and defense without sacrificing speed.

Junior college transfer quarterback David Abercrombie rolled up 221 yards of total offense in the spring game and could be one of Tulane's most promising quarterbacks in years.

NAVY

at NOTRE DAME • NOVEMBER 1 — 1:30 EST

OUTLOOK

"There is no doubt that this football team is made up of people who will hit," says first-year Navy coach Rick Forzano.

From the 1968 club, Forzano inherits 16 lettermen, eleven of whom were starters. Eighteen monogram winners were lost via graduation.

In Forzano's eyes, Navy's strong suit in 1969 is its pass receivers, even though three of the Midshipmen's top four receivers were graduated and the fourth, Karl Schwelm, was moved from flanker to fullback during spring practice.

Expected to be at receiving positions are Scott Monson at flanker, Ron Lanning at split end, and Harry Landau at tight end.

To run the offense, Forzano has Mike McNallen, a junior quarterback. Last year McNallen completed 124 of 280 passes for 1,342 yards.

Co-captain Dan Pike, Navy's top rusher with 500 yards a year ago, and Schwelm, the converted flanker, are expected to be at the running positions for the Midshipmen.

OUTLOOK

In his first year as head coach, Carl DePasqua is making some basic changes in the football program at Pittsburgh. Says DePasqua, "We're going to return to Western Pennsylvania style football—tough, hard-nosed fundamental football."

Pitt is expected to field one of its biggest and strongest teams in years. It will also be a veteran squad. A total of 37 lettermen return, including 18 of 22 regulars from last season — 10 on defense and eight on offense.

The Panthers' strength in 1969 appears to lie with the defense. With 10 starters back and a number of promising sophomores joining them, it is doubtful that Pitt will allow the record number of 392 points scored against them as last year.

Anchoring the defense will be Ralph Cindrich, a 220-pound sophomore middle linebacker.

Offensively, Pitt has relied almost exclusively on the passing game the past few years, but DePasqua plans to change that. The new Pitt coach feels a team must first establish a solid ground game before the passing attack can be effective.

at ATLANTA • NOVEMBER 15 — 9:30 EST

NATIONALLY TELEVISED — ABC-TV

OUTLOOK

Coach Bud Carson expects the 1969 Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets to be an over-all better football team than it was last season. The reasoning behind his cautious optimism is better team speed, much better depth and a host of promising sophomores.

The Yellow Jackets lost 26 lettermen from 1968, while 28 are returning.

Carson will build his defense around a nucleus of seven starters who are returning. One of them, however, Steve Foster, may be moved from defensive end to offensive tight end. The other returnees are linebackers Buck Shiver, Bill Flowers and Steve Kramer, wrecker Tash Van Dora, and defensive backs Mike Wysong and Joe Bill Faith.

The offensive starters returning in 1969 are tackle Galin Mumford, tailback Dennis James and fullback Kenny Bounds.

OUTLOOK

Thirty lettermen return to strengthen the football fortunes of the Air Force Academy Falcons of coach Ben Martin. Only nine monogram winners were graduated from the 1968 team, meaning this fall's squad will have adequate experience at most positions.

Offensively, the Falcons will field the majority of key performers from the unit that scored 251 points during the 1968 season. The offense will once again be led by versatile quarterback Gary Baxter who in the past has put together a well-balanced attack while demonstrating his own ability to run and complete the crucial passes.

Baxter's primary receivers all return to give the pass offense established performers, like Charlie Longnecker at split end.

All three of the Falcons' leading ground gaining ball carriers return. Curtis Martin and Ernie Jennings provide the speed while Jimmy DeOrio is counted on for the tough yardage.

Defensively, the Falcons will also field a veteran group led by two-year regular Ed Epping, a tackle.

NOTRE DAME'S LONGEST PLAYS

Official statistics limit the measurement of all plays to a maximum 100 yards — the actual net yardage value to the player's team.

Plays listed here which exceed 100 yards occurred prior to 1912 when the length of the playing field was 110 yards long.

An asterisk (*) denotes plays that failed to score.

Records are restricted to varsity competition. Thus, not included is George Gipp's 62-yard field goal in a freshman game against Western State Normal in 1916.

More stations are expected to join the network line-up before the first game on September 20. This lineup is by no means complete since changes can be anticipated.
